School Profile

Bishop O'Dowd High School is an engaging and diverse community focused on preparing about 1,200 talented young men and women for college through integrated academic, campus ministry, and co-curricular programs. For three generations, O'Dowd has been integral to the health and vitality of the Bay Area and beyond. More than 13,000 graduates have added far more value to the society than their numbers would have predicted. The greatest achievement has been the successful cultivation of a diversity of student talents. These include intellectual, innovative, moral, leadership, and emotional strengths, and now global and digital competencies to sustain the fastest changing era in human history. The high level of the school is proven by acceptance to both Harvard and Princeton.
